Sounds of the Week

oe (touch your toes)

ou (boulder on my shoulder)

o (old man with a cold)

On the other side of this piece of paper are 6 'alien' words (made-up, nonsense words) and 6 real words for your child to read at home.

Can they spot the different graphemes (written representation of the sound/phoneme e.g. ay, ai, a-e) in the words?

It will help if you add sound buttons to the words.

If there is a single grapheme, we draw a dot under it.

dog          strap
●●●          ●●●●●

If it is either a digraph or trigraph (two or more graphemes making one phoneme) then a line is drawn under it.

lay      high

If there is a split digraph we draw an arc over the graphemes representing the phoneme.

Once you have drawn all of the sound buttons, you can then blend the graphemes to read the words.

Below are some examples on how to blend:

e.g. d-o-g → dog

th-r-ee → three

h-air → hair
